Creating Success When Teaching & Learning Remotely

“Good teaching does not spring naturally from a particularly modality (e.g., on campus brick-and-mortar vs online). Good teaching in any learning environment requires careful attention to course design and facilitation.” (Riggs, 2019, p. 4)

Come join a dynamic learning community by participating in this specially designed online seminar series for all faculty (across all disciplines and rank). We'll share strategies and best practices from research-based pedagogy. Great conversations and handouts provided.

Sept. 16 (Wed)	“I wish I had known that earlier” : Using Informal (IEF) and Formal (ICES) Online Feedback to Improve Teaching and Learning
Sept. 23 (Wed)	Engaging Students Through Active Learning in Online Synchronous Sessions
Sept. 30 (Wed)	Effective Team Projects and Student Teams: What, How and Why
Oct. 7 (Wed)	Teaching That Sticks: Six Ways to Make Your Lessons More Memorable
Oct. 14 (Wed)	Innovative Multimedia Assessments of Student Learning: Going Beyond the Usual Papers and Exams

To maximize engagement and sharing, sessions will be online synchronously
Series is from 11:30 – 1:00 PM, Wednesdays
Registration required for zoom invitation
